Update on BEREC Net Neutrality Guidelines

▶ Commission will not propose changes to the TSM Regulation.

   ▶ The next evaluation should be carried out by 30 April 2023 the latest.

▶ BEREC plans to adopt the update its net neutrality guidelines

   ▶ Stakeholders workshop 29.5.2019

   ▶ Public consultation in October-November 2019

   ▶ Target to publish the updated Guidelines is March 2020

What clarifications to traffic management rules can be expected?

▶ Some clarifications are being prepared, e.g.:

  ▶ Differentiating Quality of Service (QoS) for IAS

  ▶ Data compression

  ▶ Blocking of content

  ▶ What is a specialised service?

  ▶ Impact of SpS on the general quality of IAS

  ▶ Is hybrid IAS a fixed connection according to the transparency rules?

▶ These topics has been discussed in BEREC Opinion

National net neutrality workshop 28.5.2019

- We are organising this workshop to discuss net neutrality rules and how they impact e.g. the 5G development

- We have realised that there are many concerns but after going trough the use case, we have not been able to identify many issues

  - Rules seem to allow innovations and 5G development

- The workshop will be held in Finnish

  - Tuesday 28.5.2019 13.00 - 15.00

  - Dynamicum, Erik Palménin aukio 1, Helsinki

- The participation link is already closed, but if your would still like to attend, please email me by 12:00 Monday 20.5.
